

DR INGRID SØRENSEN

Reader in Computational Linguistics

i.sorensen@ed.ac.uk · Edinburgh, UK · ed.ac.uk/informatics/sorensen

SUMMARY

Computational linguist working on low-resource morphology, with a particular interest in languages whose speakers are not served by the methods that work for English.

EDUCATION

PhD Linguistics

2012 – 2016

University of Copenhagen

- Thesis: Morphological segmentation without supervision in agglutinative languages.

PUBLICATIONS

Unsupervised morphological segmentation for agglutinative languages

Sørensen, I., Okonkwo, A., Baptiste, M. · Computational Linguistics 49(2) · 2023

What morphological complexity costs a language model

Sørensen, I., Baptiste, M. · Proceedings of ACL · 2022

EXPERIENCE

Reader in Computational Linguistics

2021 – Present

University of Edinburgh

- Principal investigator, EPSRC grant EP/X01234/1 (£1.2m, 2022–2026).

Lecturer

2016 – 2021

University of Copenhagen

AWARDS

Best Long Paper

2022

ACL

LANGUAGES

Danish	Native
English	Native
German	B2

SKILLS

Methods	Bayesian inference, Finite-state morphology
---------	---